VISITORS

THE PUBLICATION OF A DEDICATED guide on Abu Dhabi's expanding accommodation options demonstrates just how far the destination has come in a short time. Just seven years ago this emirate had 62 hotels and no official star-rating system and we could list our properties easily within the visitor guide.

Today the emirate has over 145 hotels, hotel apartments and resorts – and the number is growing. Indeed such is the growth that we need a separate booklet to inform you of all the options.

Back in 2004 most of the hotels were centred in downtown Abu Dhabi and Al Ain. Today you can choose from an array of accommodation ranging from iconic buildings – such as the opulent Emirates Palace, the striking Yas Viceroy Hotel or the leaning Hyatt Capital Gate, to exciting resorts and hotels on the islands and in the deserts of the Western Region, to beachfront resorts around Abu Dhabi city's coastline, ultra-modern retreats on Yas Island, luxurious havens on Saadiyat Island, tranquil getaways in Al Ain, state-of-the-art business properties in the heart of the capital and a distinctly modern resort adjoining the Abu Dhabi Golf Club championship facility. And it doesn't stop there. We are looking forward to the opening of new properties, each with their own unique and special features.

I am confident that no matter where you stay you will find superior service – certainly we are doing our best to ensure that you are greeted by a truly professionally trained workforce – and, of course, in 2013, as in 2004, you will receive the same warm Arabian welcome which is integral to our cultural heritage and for which the emirate is now known. It is good to know that some things never change.

Wherever you stay, I wish you a pleasant trip and one that is so enjoyable and memorable that we will welcome you back time and again.
